CHAPTER V.

LEFT to himself in the deserted hall the old sailor walked over to the body of the old soldier. Many a quaint dispute these two old men had held in their brief acquaintance, and upon one thing had they been able to agree except in hatred of the English and love of their common country. Still their disputes had been friendly, and if they had not loved they had at least respected each other.

"I wish I had not been so hard on the man, I really liked him," soliloquized the sailor. "Poor Blodgett, almost forgotten, as Mr. Talbot says! He died the right way, though, doing his duty, fighting for his country and for those he loved. Well, he was a brave man—for a soldier," he murmured thoughtfully.

Out on the river the little sloop was speeding rapidly along. Tide as thou wilt, Philip, she cannot be overtaken. Most of the exhausted men lay about the decks in drunken slumber. Johnson stood moodily by the men at the helm. His triumph had been tempered by Desborough's interference. Two or three of the more decent of his followers were discussing the events of the night.

"Poor Joe!" said one.

"Yes, and Evans and Whitely, too," was the reply.

"Aye, three dead, and nobody hurt for it," answered the other.

"You forget the old fellow at the landing though."

"Yes, he fought like the devil and came near balking the whole game. That was a lucky shot you got in, Davis, after Evans missed and was hit. That fellow was a brave man—for a rebel," said the raider.

In the cabin of the sloop Colonel Wilton was sitting on one of the lockers, his arm around Katharine, who was leaning against him weeping, her hands before her face. Desborough was standing respectfully in front of them.

"And you say he made a good fight?" asked the colonel sadly.

"Splendid, sir. We stole up to the boat-house with muffled oars, wishing to give no warning, and before he knew it half of us were on the wharf. He challenged, we made a rush. He shot the first man in the breast and brained the next with his clubbed musket, shouting words of warning the while. The men fell back and handled their pistols. I heard two or three shots, and then he fell, never making another sound. But for Johnson's forethought in sending a second boat load to the upper landing to get to the back of the house you might have escaped with the warning and the delay he caused. He was a brave man and died like a soldier," continued the young man softly.

"He saved my life at Cartagena, and when I caught the fever there he nursed me at the risk of his own. He was faithfulness itself. He died as he would have liked to die, with his face to the enemy. I loved him in a way you can hardly understand. Yes; he was a brave man, my poor old friend."

On the rustic bench beside the driveway overlooking the river sat a little woman, older by ten years in the two hours which had elapsed since she looked after the disappearing figure of her son.

She heard the sound of wheels upon the gravel road and recognized Colonel Wilton's carriage and horses coming up the hill. There were her own two horses following after, but neither of the riders was her son. What could have happened? She rose in alarm.

The carriage stopped near her.

"What, mother! Are you still here?" said Hilary, opening the door and stepping out, his voice cold and stern.

"Yes, my son. What has happened?"

"Dunmore's men have raided the Wilton place. Katharine and her father have been carried away by that brute Johnson, who commanded the party. Seymour has been wounded in defending Katharine. I have brought him here. This is the way," he went on fiercely, "his majesty the king wages war on his beloved subjects of Virginia."

"They that take the sword shall perish with the sword," she quoted, with equal resolution.

"And Blodgett is killed, too," he added.

"What else have those who rebel against their rightful monarch a right to expect?" she replied. "Is Mr. Seymour seriously wounded?"

"No, madam," answered that young man from the carriage, "but I fear me my cause makes me an unwelcome visitor."

"Nay; not so, sir. No wounded helpless man craving assistance can ever be unwelcome at my—at the home of the Talbots, whatever his creed. How did Blodgett, did you say, Hilary?"

"Fighting for his master at the foot of the path, shot by those ruffians."

"So many it be to all enemies of the king," she replied, "but after all he was a brave man. 'Tis a pity he fell in so poor a cause."

And that was thy epitaph, old soldier; that thy requiem, honest Blodgett—from friend and foe alike—"He was a brave man!"

Many Hoosier Republicans Want to Attend Big Convention.

Indianapolis, June 15.—The headquarters of the Indiana delegation to the Republican national convention at Chicago will probably not be opened before Sunday, although it was reported today that they may be opened as early as Friday or Saturday, as a number of the party leaders will leave here tomorrow and next day. Secretary Sims of the state committee says, however, that it is the plan now not to open the headquarters until Sunday morning. Although Indiana will have but 100 tickets outside those given the delegates and the alternates, the inquiries received at the state committee rooms indicate that there will be a large crowd of Hoosiers on hand.

Hugh Dougherty of Elkhart is slated for the Democratic nomination for governor and will probably accept if Judge Parker or some conservative is nominated for president and if the St. Louis convention leaves the party in a harmonious condition. While there is no positive admission to this effect from the party leaders who will practically have the making of the nomination, yet there are a number of circumstances pointing to its correctness. It has been no secret that Taggart and his lieutenants generally regard Dougherty as the logical candidate, inasmuch as John W. Kern of this city will not ask to be renominated; but up to this time Dougherty has flatly refused to permit the use of his name. He does not permit the use of his name now, but when asked here today if he will be a candidate or if he would accept, he refused to make a statement, saying that after the national convention will be the time to consider the personnel of the ticket. From this inference may be drawn that he is not averse to accepting the nomination if the conditions are suitable. It is generally conceded that he is one of the most popular men in the state and that he would make an acceptable candidate to the party.

While the national, state and county campaign is just starting, it is also becoming evident that there is considerable sparring going on preparatory to the opening of the city campaign next year. It now seems to be almost a foregone conclusion that Charles A. Bookwalter will attempt to secure another nomination for mayor, although there have been no evidences that the Republicans who opposed him so bitterly last year have changed their opinion of him. But Bookwalter has always felt that he was defeated largely because his campaign was poorly managed and because many of his so-called political managers were very unpopular. An interesting feature of the situation is the rumor, apparently reliable, that he has cut the acquaintance of these men and that he is going into the campaign on his own hook. It has always been conceded here that he is a fine politician and a fearless and tireless worker, so the prospect of him becoming a candidate again promises a lively campaign.

All of the Republican members of congress from this state have arranged to attend the national convention. Congressman Hemenway of the First district will probably be the first one to reach Chicago, for he expects to be there tomorrow. He says that he is not going for the purpose of working for or against the nomination of Senator Fairbanks for vice president, but merely to be there early to meet his friends from other states. Since he became chairman of the committee on appropriations and floor leader in the house his circle of friends has grown and he is now one of the best known Hoosiers in the country. Congressman Crumpacker of the Tenth will be an early arrival at Chicago, as his district borders on the suburbs of the Windy City. The other members will be leaving Friday and Saturday. As they are all good politicians it is expected that they will make their presence felt as soon as they reach the scene of action.

Warren Bigler, former secretary of the Republican state committee, called at the headquarters today while en route to his home in Wabash on Mississippi, where he has just closed another big land deal. Since he left the committee Bigler has spent more than half his time outside the state. He was asked today about the political situation in Mississippi. He said that Mississippi seems so far removed from the center of the political stage that there is but little doing there in national politics. The Republicans are in hopeless minority and realize that they have but little voice in electing the national ticket. In local affairs the whites are arrayed against the blacks regardless of party beliefs. Bigler expressed the opinion that for the good of the country there ought to be two white men's parties. He is arranging to go to Chicago next week to attend the national convention.

Evidence of Infanticide. Richmond, Ind., June 15.—The third dead baby found in Richmond in three weeks was taken to Coroner Markley for investigation. The body was found a short distance southwest of the city limits. It had been wrapped in a newspaper and placed in a shoe box. The coroner says the baby was several days old when it died.

A HOT OLD TIME

Illinois Democrats Enliven Their Convention by Several Fist Fights.

HOPKINS' FIRM GRASP

Chairman Retained His Control of Things and Ruled the Convention With an Iron Hand.

Hearst Delegates Could Not Be Ruled Out, However, On Matter of Instructions.

Governor—Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln.

Lieutenant Governor—Thomas J. Ferns of Jerseyville.

Secretary of State—Frank E. Dooling of Sangamon county.

State Auditor—R. E. Spangler of Chicago.

State Treasurer—Charles B. Thomas of McLeansboro.

Attorney General—Albert Watson of Jefferson county.

University Trustees—Mrs. Anna G. Solomon of Chicago; Theodore C. Loebl of Carlinville; F. B. Merrill of St. Clair county.

Delegates-at-large to the St. Louis convention—John P. Hopkins, A. M. Lawrence, Ben T. Cable, Samuel Alschuler.

Springfield, Ill., June 15.—The above nominations were made at the Democratic state convention yesterday afternoon. John P. Hopkins of Chicago will succeed himself as chairman of the state central committee. William R. Hearst received from the convention what the Hopkins faction, which completely dominated the proceedings, knew he wanted, and Mr. Hearst's campaign managers, who aspired to control the Democratic party in this state, received what John P. Hopkins thought was coming to them.

The Illinois delegation was instructed to vote for Mr. Hearst at St. Louis as long as his name remained before the convention.

Mr. Hearst's campaign managers, who attempted to ride into power by the aid of his name, received absolutely no consideration whatever from the convention. The Harrison party, which came solely from Chicago and was pledged to the support of Congressman James R. Williams, was routed completely. Carter H. Harrison was unseated as a delegate and took a train for home without going near the convention. Both his faction and the Hearst party were as nothing compared with the strength and skillful management of the convention exhibited by Hopkins.

At the same time it must be said that never before in Illinois has there been a bolder display of ruthless gavel rule than that exhibited by John P. Quinn of Peoria, who presided over the convention both as temporary and permanent chairman. He paid absolutely no attention to men or motions when it did not jibe with the interests of the Hopkins plans for him to do so, and in one instance at least he declared a motion carried before the Hearst people had voted upon it.

Pending the arrival of the committee on resolutions a motion was carried directing the convention to proceed with the nomination of candidates for state offices.

"Before we proceed," said Chairman Quinn, "several of the candidates wish to address the convention."

William A. Prentiss of Chicago, who was a candidate for governor, advanced to the front of the platform. His face was white with wrath and his eyes blazing. He declared passionately that he desired nothing from the convention, it did not, in his opinion, represent the Democracy of Illinois, and he wished nothing at its hands.

"I decline to have my name submitted to this convention in any manner," he shouted, and walked off the platform, followed by the cheers of the Hearst delegates.

William C. Crolius of Joliet followed in a brief speech, endorsing the stand taken by Mr. Prentiss, and also withdrew his name from the convention.

Then came another long wait, during which the wildest confusion prevailed on the floor and several fist fights took place between the delegates. None of them amounted to more than an incidental diversion from the routine.

Clayton E. Crafts of Chicago then came forward with the platform.

When he read: "We, the Democrats of Illinois—"

"Who are Democrats?" "You're no Democrat," came from the Hearst people, and the hoots and jeers that greeted Mr. Crafts compelled him to suspend for a time.

He had a similar experience when he announced, "We believe in the rule of the majority—" Pungent questions reeking with sarcasm were hurled at him in profusion and the hooters were again strongly in evidence. The resolution providing for the endorsement of Mr. Hearst was not made a part of the report of the committee on resolutions, but was submitted to the convention as a separate matter. The original resolution provided practically that the Illinois delegation should vote for Hearst until it was convenient to poll for somebody else. A substitute offered by Clarence S. Darrow, pledging the delegates to Hearst as long as his name is before the convention, was then adopted by a vote of 325 to 335.

The nomination of candidates was taken up. Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln and Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago were named. Mr. Darrow declined to run and Mr. Stringer was nominated by acclamation. After the other candidates had been nominated the convention adjourned.

WILL TELL IT ALL

Nan Patterson's Lawyer Says Her Story Will Clear Her.

New York, June 15.—Mrs. Nan Patterson, actress, who was indicted by the grand jury for the murder of Frank (Caesar) Young, in a cab June 4, was arraigned before Judge Newburger Tuesday to plead to the charge. At the request of her counsel, Abraham Levy, the pleading was deferred until next Friday, when a motion for the inspection of the minutes of the grand jury will be made. Counsel Levy said that it was his purpose to bring the case to trial at the earliest possible moment. "Nan Patterson will go on the stand and tell her story of the death of Young," he said. "Her story will clear her. She will conceal nothing."

Lawyer Levy hopes that the trial may be called some time in July.

FIFTY SHOTS FIRED

When Smoke Cleared Away Three Were Dead and Two Wounded.

Bedford, Ind., June 15.—As the result of a duel fought on the public streets at Bryansville, a town of 300 inhabitants, eight miles west of here, three are dead and two fatally wounded. The dead are: James Rout, aged thirty-two; Charles Rout, thirty-six; Mill Tow, twenty-four. Wounded—James Tow and Frank Tow.

The participants in the affair were brothers, the Rout boys living in Bedford and the Tow brothers at Bryansville. The latter are relatives of the Tows, who were made famous by the celebrated Tow-Bass fashions, whose strife in the past decade has formed a bloody epoch in the history of Lawrence county and southern Indiana.

The shooting followed the alleged determination of the Rout brothers to "get even" for some fancied insult, to which they took exception, some days ago. No one can be found who will positively say who fired the first shot, but in a moment revolvers were drawn and a pitched battle ensued. Conservative estimates place the number of shots fired at fifty.

Citizens Are Indignant.

North Manchester, Ind., June 15.—In a few days the affairs of the North Manchester Bank, which closed its doors last Saturday evening, will be taken into the bankruptcy court. While this failure in dollars and cents is not so great as the failure of many other banks in Indiana, there is a good deal of indignation over the way the bank was conducted, and the manner of its closing, and there is a desire on the part of many of the creditors to find out just how the thing was done.

Old Man's Desperate Deed.

St. Cloud, Minn., June 15.—After stabbing his wife to death and setting fire to his fine farmhouse Frank Nelson, a wealthy farmer, seventy years old, placed a noose about his neck and, stabbing himself in the breast, lurched forward into eternity.

Has Distinguished Precedent.

Champaign, Ill., June 15.—William McKinley of Champaign was nominated for congress by the Republican convention of the Nineteenth Illinois district. Colonel Vespasian Warner is the present congressman.

Governor Odell's Return.

New York, June 15.—Governor B. B. Odell of New York has returned from a three weeks' trip abroad.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Gen. Lee will succeed Gen. Gordon as commander of the Confederate veterans.

While the Japanese transport Taihoku Maru was placing mines at the entrance to Port Arthur harbor, Monday evening, one of the mines exploded, killing one officer and eighteen men.

A committee of leading business men of Cripple Creek declared that in the future neither walking delegates, agitators, nor labor unions will be allowed to say who may or who may not labor in Teller county.

An old feud resulted in a pistol duel on the streets of Bryansville, Ind., and James and Charles Rout and Mr. Tow were killed, and James and Frank Tow dangerously wounded.

A SEVERE CHECK

The Japanese Advance Was Successfully Resisted by Russians at Vafangow.

HELD THEIR POSITION

In the Face of Heavy Losses Russians Retained Their Strong Foothold at Strategic Point.

An Engagement to Which the Russian General Staff Attaches Much Importance.

Liao Yang, June 15.—Japanese artillery has opened up on Vafangow (a station on the railway twenty-five miles above Kin Chau). Details are awaited.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The general staff remained in session until about 2 o'clock this morning to translate and give out Lieutenant General Baron Stakelberg's message announcing the fight at Vafangow. This unusually late hour indicates that the authorities attach considerable importance to the dispatch.

It is thought here that the Vafangow affair may prove to have been quite a heavy fight. The fact that the Russians hold their position in the face of heavy losses also supports this theory, and it is believed that it may turn out to be a severe check to the Japanese northern advance.

The movement of 3,000 Japanese north of Kuan Dian Shan only adds to the blindness of the situation in the northeastern field of operations. It is unquestionable that the Cossacks have been worrying the Japanese north of Feng Wang Cheng, and the movement may be merely an effort to clear the country. At the same time this movement holds the possibility of a demonstration against Mukden, one of the main roads leading directly east from Mukden toward the region to which the Japanese are now advancing.

The consensus of opinion, however, is that the advance is more in the nature of a demonstration than a preliminary to an actual attack.

A special dispatch from Liao Yang dated June 14, says: "Yesterday (Monday) at the battle of Vafangow Japanese troops numbering 20,000 tried to pass our flank but were discovered. We changed our position, flanking the Japanese, and opened a heavy fire. The result is unknown."

General Stakelberg's Report.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following telegram from Lieutenant General Baron Stakelberg bearing Tuesday's date: "A battle began at noon on the Russian position four and a half miles south of the station of Vafangow, the enemy making repeated attempts to dislodge our left flank. The attack was repelled and we retained our position. The first regiment occupying the left flank of our position sustained severe losses. Its commander, Colonel Khavantounoff, and Adjutant Sub-Lieutenant Dragosloff Nodechinsky were killed. General Gerngross was wounded, a shrapnel bullet shattering the right side of his jaw, yet he remained on the field."

Victim of His Own Invention.

Tokio, June 15.—The officer killed in the accident to the torpedo ships Taihoku was Lieutenant Commander Oda. He was the inventor of the Japanese mine and, by his great activity and skill throughout the operations before Port Arthur, had added largely to his reputation.

A Russian Expert View.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The Vazedchik, the leading service magazine, in reviewing the war, arrives at the conclusion that after three and a half months the Russians find themselves exactly where they expected to be, while the Japanese are behindhand.

OPENED WITH PRAYER

Indiana Village Dance Given a Unique Introduction.

Brazil, Ind., June 15.—The Knights-ville Pastime club gave a dance at Knightsville, and the ball was opened with prayer. Many of those in the club are also members of the Knights-ville M. E. church. When the idea of giving the dance was announced, the pastor and official board of the church protested against the young people of the church participating, and a good deal of warm talk resulted. The pastor and his adherents finally compromised on the condition that they be invited to the dance and, if they found anything objectionable the ball was to cease. Those who opposed the dance entered the hall at 8 o'clock, opening the event with prayer and religious song, and the pastor and his party watched the dancers for some time. It is believed that the contention has not ended.

Will Make Test Case.

Denver, Col., June 15.—A hearing is to be given to C. G. Kennison, president of the Cripple Creek miners' union, to test the legality of his arrest. The prisoner will be taken back to Cripple Creek for trial if the court finds that he was legally arrested. Eighty-seven warrants are out for miners who are accused of complicity in the explosion at the Independence station and the rioting at Victor.

Greeted With Laughter.

New York, June 15.—An attempt to introduce resolutions of sympathy with the union miners of Colorado at the session of the board of aldermen met with so much opposition that the resolution was withdrawn before it had been read. Alderman Downing, who presented the resolutions, said he did so at the request of trade unionists, and he believed them to be of great importance. Many of the aldermen evidently did not take the resolutions seriously, and the reading clerk was repeatedly interrupted by laughter.

Fatal Railway Wreck.

Carbondale, Ill., June 15.—The Chicago limited passenger train on the Illinois Central was wrecked in the terminal yards in this city and John Hamilton, a cigarmaker of Memphis, was instantly killed and several passengers bruised and injured. Hamilton was riding on the blind baggage.

Meat Dealers Protest.

Watertown, N. Y., June 15.—The State Butchers and Meat Dealers' Protective association in convention here adopted a resolution condemning the action of the trusts in raising the price of meat at the present time, the association believing that conditions do not warrant it.

Confederate Veterans Meet.

Nashville, Tenn., June 15.—Under every condition tending to a successful reunion, Nashville is entertaining the United Confederate Veterans and their friends, constituting a host conservatively estimated at 30,000 people.

The arrest was ordered by Gen. Bell. Mr. Haags was brought from Victor to Cripple Creek and placed in the bull-pen. Strict orders were given that he be not allowed to communicate with anybody.

A Nervous Woman

Will often feel compelled to stop the clock whose ticking seems unbearable to her. In such a nervous condition the woman needs a building up of the entire system. It is useless to attempt the cure while the cause of the nervousness remains uncured. A very common cause of nervousness in women is a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases and the nervousness which they cause. It changes irregularity to regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a perfect tonic and nerve, tranquilizing the nerves, promoting the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

"When I first wrote you I had been to three different doctors and two of them said I would never get better without going to the hospital for an operation," writes Mrs. Selma Erickson, of 495 Rice Street, St. Paul, Minn. "Was not able to do anything. If I would get up and walk to the kitchen and back I would have to lie in bed for a day or sometimes two days. Now I have used six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the result is just wonderful. I was so nervous I had to have some one by my side all the time even in day time, and I could hardly eat anything. I took treatment from a doctor twice a week, and every time I would go there I felt so sick, but since I quit all the doctors and began taking your medicines I gained right along. I weighed 125 pounds, when I began taking your medicines (in August) and now I am up to my usual weight 165. I am as well and feel as good as ever."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TURNING THEM BACK
Many Undesirable Emigrants Try to Get Into America.
New York, June 15.—According to the officials at Ellis Island the present influx of immigrants includes an unusually large proportion of undesirable, a total of 243 out of 19,595 having been already ordered deported, while 650 were held in the detention pen yesterday awaiting final decision on their cases, and 6,647 have been detained for various reasons, but may be landed later. This condition is believed to have been brought about partly by the recent cuts in steamship rates, and the third-class passengers on every incoming vessel are being watched with the greatest care. Last June one out of every 114 immigrants was turned back, while for the first eleven days of this month one out of every eighty has been deported as absolutely unfit to enter the United States.
Many of these now arriving, however, had bought their tickets long before the present low rates were in force, and it is thought these yet to come will be of a still worse class. Nearly 3,000 immigrants arrived on three steamships yesterday and the facilities at Ellis Island are being so severely taxed that the use of tents to care for these who are being detained has been suggested.

TERSE TELEGRAMS
Ohio G. A. R. reunion is on at Tiffin. The report that the Russian gunboats Glik and Ror have been destroyed is untrue. Customian advice report business good and the prospect excellent for a good coffee crop. It is said that a camp for the deported miners of Colorado will be established in New Mexico. William Rust and Gadsra Bright, Hagerstown, Md., committed suicide together by drowning. It is said that a well organized and widely spread plot to depose the sultan exists throughout Morocco. The Japanese have published an offer of a reward of $10,000 for the head of each translator serving with the Russian army. Editha, the nine-months old child of Harold F. and Edith Rockefeller McCormick and a grandchild of John D. Rockefeller is dead. The Russian battleship Caravitch, which was injured at Port Arthur Feb. 9th, and which has ever since been undergoing repairs, is now ready for sea. At Sikeston, Mo., Miss Blakely shot and killed Annie Clifton, afterwards committing suicide. Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the tragedy. Gilbert P. ## FOOL PROOF and FIRE PROOF.

Why do you continue paying large light bills? We can save you 50 per cent. of your present light bills and give you 1,000 per cent. more light. These are broad claims, but nevertheless they are facts. We can furnish light any place and as much of it as you want. Call at our store and investigate this wonderful lighting system. Agents for Jackson county.

TESTIMONIAL.

MESSRS. WATSON & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., Agents. March 1, 1904.
Dear Sirs:—Replying to your query as to whether I am pleased with the F. P. lighting system which you installed for me fifteen months ago, I will say that it has never given me one minute's trouble nor one dollar's expense. It gives the best light I ever saw for interior use. The actual rays are of such a character as to make it very desirable when the perfectly natural colors of objects are to be distinguished without confusion.

As to cost of maintenance, I think my experience, based upon close observation, will warrant the statement that it is under $80 per annum, and our store is open every day in the year until 11 o'clock p. m., except on Sunday, one hour less. Under the same condition, and with the most approved facilities for the distribution of light, our bills for illuminating gas were about $200 per year, and for electric light (arcs) about $100 to $120 per annum, and at no time have we had more than one half the light we now have.

I am particularly pleased with the light, and the fact that it is so economical makes it the more desirable.

As you can readily figure, I paid for my apparatus and cost of light in about four or five months. Yours truly, R. L. EADS.

Class Address.....Rev. W. C. Martin

Presentation of Diplomas

County Supt. J. E. Payne

The class address was given by Rev. W. C. Martin. From first to last he held his audience enraptured.

He said in part: "The business of life is to be, to do, to do without, to depart. To be means more than simply living. It has a higher meaning, a spiritual meaning that carries with it a noble character. The world wants people who can do something worth doing. It is not the person of most brilliant attainments that makes a mark in the world, but the one who is persistent and determined. Not one brilliant man ever became persistent. We must learn to do without things. Plain living with thinking accord well with noble characters. Finally, the man who has learned the Business of Life will depart in peace."

Supt. J. E. Payne, in a neat speech which contained much sound advice, and commendations for the class, presented the diplomas. The class was highly complimented on their essays and the excellent grades which they had made.

How Much Money Have You Spent

For lenses, and how much did you get in return? We agree that you shall be satisfied, that our lenses for distant use shall be everything you desire as long as you live, and if they need changing to better your vision—or any one else can make it better—we will do the work FREE OF CHARGE, OR PAY TO HAVE THE MAN WHO KNOWS MORE ABOUT THIS WORK THAN WE DO, DO IT FOR YOU.

Our work stands out and speaks for itself, and if your eyes need attention, come to us. We are deserving of your consideration. Successful fitting of lenses was almost unknown in Seymour eight months ago, but many have experienced the pleasure of eating the pudding since, which certainly is the best proof. Examinations free. ## LIBRARIES IN INDIANA.

Remarkable Advancement Under The New State Law.

"There are 376 towns in Indiana that should have public libraries which have not," says Miss Merica Hoagland, secretary and organizer of the State library commission, "and there are about 160 that have libraries. The state has advanced 25 years in library development since the passage of the library law in 1903 and, from the stimulation produced by the gift of Carnegie libraries. There are 41 Carnegie libraries in the state, ranging in cost from $10,000, $90,000 the latter figure being the cost of the Fort Wayne library."

The library commission met, Monday afternoon, to hear reports from Miss Hoagland on visits made to Jeffersonville, Brazil, Greencastle, Terre Haute, Evansville, Bedford, Seymour, Butler and Hammond, in all of which places movements for libraries have been started. She has made three visits to the Jeffersonville reformatory to assist prisoners in properly cataloging their library.

A Quiet Wedding at Crothersville.

At 8 p. m. June 14, 1904, at the residence of the bride's father, John A. Cox, Charles W. Bard and Miss Lida A. Cox. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. C. Overman in his usual happy style. The bride and groom were beautifully attired for the occasion and were attended by Miss Jewel Cox, of Brownstown, who acted as bridesmaid and placed the happy couple under a canopy of hanging flowers where they took the obligation as pronounced by the officiating clergyman. After congratulations refreshments were announced and all marched into the dining room preceded by the bride and groom and were seated around the dining table which seemed groaning beneath its load of delicacies that would tempt the appetite of an epicure and was presided over by Miss Katie Cox, of Kansas City, Missouri, whose pleasing and happy manner of conducting the ceremony was highly commended by all present. At 7:30 the guests took their departure for their several homes wishing the happy couple Godspeed on their future journey through life. Charlie, as the groom is familiarly called, is engaged in the U. S. mail service being carrier on rural route No. 1 out of Crothersville. He took his new wife out on his route with him the next morning but whether or where he has deposited her is not known as they have not been heard from up to the present writing. SPECTATOR.

RHEUMATISM

NOT A SKIN DISEASE.

It is natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when rheumatic pain is shooting through the joints and muscles and they are inflamed and sore, the sufferer is apt to turn to liniments and plasters for relief; and while such treatment may quiet the pain temporarily, no amount of rubbing or blistering can cure Rheumatism, because it is not a skin disease, but is in the blood and all through the system, and every time you are exposed to the same conditions that caused the first attack, you are going to have another, and Rheumatism will last just as long as the poison is in the blood, no matter what you apply externally. Too much acid in the blood is one cause of Rheumatism; stomach troubles, bad digestion, weak kidneys and torpid liver are other causes which bring on this painful disease, because the blood becomes tainted with the poisonous matter which these organs fail to carry out of the system. Certain secret diseases will produce Rheumatism, and of all forms this is the most stubborn and severe, for it seems to affect every bone and muscle in the body. The blood is the medium by which the poisons and acids are carried through the system, and it doesn't matter what kind of Rheumatism you have, it must be treated through the blood, or you can never get permanently rid of it. As a cure for rheumatic troubles S. S. S. has never been equalled. It doesn't inflame the stomach and ruin the digestion like Potash, Alkalies and other strong drugs, but tones up the general health, gently stimulates the sluggish organs, and at the same time antitoxins and filters out of the blood all poisonous acids and effete matter of every kind; and when S. S. S. has restored the blood to its natural condition, the painful, feverish joints and the sore and tender muscles are immediately relieved.

Our special book on Rheumatism will be mailed free to those desiring it. Our physicians will cheerfully answer all letters asking for special information or advice, for which no charge is made.

COMRADES GATHER

Warsaw Is Crowded With Indiana Veterans of a Great War.

PROMINENT VISITORS

Among the Notables Present Are National Commander Black and Mrs. John A. Logan.

The Great Annual Parade of the Veterans Was the Feature of This Afternoon.

Warsaw, Ind., June 15.—General John C. Black, national commander of the Grand Army; General Peter J. Osterhaus of Germany, who fought on the Union side during the civil war, and Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the famous general, are among the distinguished guests at the 25th annual encampment of the Department of Indiana, G. A. R., which is in session here. Both Warsaw and Winona are crowded with veterans from Indiana and adjoining states. Department Commander Grubbs presided over the first business session of the organization in the Winona auditorium today. The annual parade, in which 6,000 veterans and Governor Durbin and his staff participated, took place this afternoon.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

Summary for Indiana for the Week Ending Monday, June 13.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 15.—Abnormally low temperature prevailed throughout the entire week. The average daily deficit was about 6 degrees. Precipitation during the week consisted of light to moderate showers at a few scattered places. The ground is in good condition generally, but with the exception of a few localities, is beginning to need more moisture. Planting corn is practically finished, but there is some replanting to do. A large acreage has been put in and, although late and on account of low temperature growing slowly, the crop generally is clean and promising. Some fields of corn are receiving the second cultivation. Wheat has continued to improve in appearance and is heading in places but with few exceptions the crop is very unpromising. The fly has attacked it in several localities, particularly on the experimental farm, Lafayette, where it is estimated that not less than 40 per cent of that which survived the winter has been destroyed. Oats continue in good condition, but are making very slow growth. Rye is headed out and most fields promise a full average crop. Clover and timothy and all grasses are growing nicely and, with the exception of old clover, promise good crops. In Brown county apples are reported to be falling badly, but generally the prospects for fruit of all kinds, excepting peaches, are good.

Dynamite Was Used.

Bluffton, Ind., June 15.—An attempt was made to blow up the home of Mrs. Mattie Connor in Oklahoma, a suburb of this city. A charge of dynamite was placed under the kitchen, but only that part of the house was damaged, the loss being small. No one was injured. Suspicion points to a man who wanted to file an affidavit against Mrs. Connor, on complaint that she was sheltering his wife under her roof.

Guilty of Attempted Murder.

Evansville, Ind., June 15.—Carl Brown, colored, who shot and severely wounded Herdie Wilson, streetcar conductor, two weeks ago, because Wilson demanded payment of fare, has been found guilty of attempted murder. The defendant was fined $500 and costs and was committed to prison under the indeterminate sentence act.

Caught in Cave-In.

Newcastle, Ind., June 15.—While cleaning out a well at his home in Mechanicsburg, there was a cave-in of brick and earth, burying I. Keessling. Helpers uncovered him as quickly as possible, but he was dead when brought to the surface, having been suffocated.

Morristown, Ind., June 15.—The jewelry store of A. F. Zimmerman was entered and jewelry valued at $400 was taken. The robbers effected an entrance by prying open a window. There is no clue to their identity.

I doctored and doctored but received no permanent benefit. My kidneys were out of order, the secretions were annoying and my rest was much disturbed at night. I found that my heart was being affected as time went by. On learning of Doan's Kidney Pills sold by C. W. Milhous, I procured a box. Although I had little expectation of finding relief, I was more than gratified when I found they promptly benefited me, relieved me of pain in my back, strengthened the kidneys and banished the annoyance from the secretions."

It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. ### Murder and Suicide.

Lewistown, Pa., June 15.—Wm. A. Sheaffer, aged thirty-four years, shot and killed his mistress, Flora Wagner, formerly of Harrisburg, and then blew out his own brains. Inmates of the house say that the cause of the tragedy was jealousy on the part of Sheaffer.

Daring Attempt Frustrated.

Columbus, Ohio, June 14.—An attempt was made by four of the nine condemned men in the annex at the penitentiary to escape, about 1 o'clock this morning by overpowering the guard. The guard was badly beaten, but two guards from one of the halls came to his rescue and the prisoners were forced back into their cells and locked up.

Trouble Is Subsidizing.

Denver, Colo., June 14.—"I think the war is nearly over," said Governor Peabody. "I have news from General Bell that the Cripple Creek mines are open and running and there is comparatively little disaffection among the men. There is no news of further trouble or any likelihood of any."

COWS TRAINED FOR THE TEST

Jerseys at the World's Fair Are Expected to Show That They Are Superior to All Other Breeds.

The herd of Jersey cows assembled at the World's Fair at St. Louis to represent the Jersey breed in the universal dairy test has been inspected and has been pronounced in perfect condition and ready to start upon their six months' grind on a day's notice.

W. R. Spann of the Burr Oak Jersey farm, Dallas, Tex., was the inspector, and he was thorough in his work. He passed a week on the Exposition grounds, and much of the time was spent in and around the Jersey cattle barn, and the condition of each individual of the herd of forty cows was definitely ascertained.

Never was more intelligent and careful treatment lavished on animals. No athlete was ever better trained for a contest requiring the development of speed, skill and endurance than has been this herd of Jerseys. When it is known that this herd is to compete with selected herds of Holsteins, Short-horns, Brown Swiss and Devons, and the herd making the best score for the production of butter, milk and cheese is to establish the standing of the various breeds, the importance of the cows being in perfect condition may be understood.

For a solid year the Jerseys have been in constant training. Twenty-five cows will participate in the contest. Cows were selected from the best herds in the United States.

Dr. J. J. Richardson, president of the American Jersey Cattle Club, under whose auspices this entry is made, toured Europe and visited the famed Isle of Jersey, where the breed originated. He was seeking the best cows, but returned satisfied that Europe could show no cows that were better than those bred in America.

Though only twenty-five cows will participate in the test, forty cows were selected. They were assembled at Jerseyville, Ill., a year ago. This is near St. Louis, and the cattle have become acclimated. Last December they were removed to St. Louis. The cows are the property of individual members of the club and are loaned for the term of the test. C. T. Graves, a breeder at Maitland, Mo., was selected as the superintendent to have charge of the cattle, and he has been highly complimented by Dr. Richardson and Inspector Spann for the wonderfully fine condition in which he has placed the herd.

A series of model dairy barns have been built for the breeds competing in the test. The barns are octagonal in form, and are so arranged that the cows are in the center and a wide promenade permits visitors to pass around and view the cows as they stand in their stalls.

The milking and feeding are to be done in plain view of the public, and representatives of the various herds will at all times have access to all the barns to see that no sharp practices are indulged in.

The test not only consists in showing the amount of butter, milk and cheese produced, but the cost of production is taken into consideration. Every ounce of food given each cow is weighed and carefully recorded. When the cows are milked, the milk is conveyed to a model creamery in the Agricultural building, where it is tested and made into butter and cheese and where all records are carefully kept.

The Jersey cattle participated in a similar test at Chicago during the Columbian Exposition and carried off first honors.

Superintendent Graves is sanguine over the result of the present test. He says that the Jerseys have always demonstrated their superiority over all other breeds when placed in competition, and this time they will show to better advantage than ever. Not only is the Jersey milk richer in butter fat than the milk of any other breed, says Mr. Graves, but it can be produced at a less cost. The Jersey cows are the smallest of the standard breeds, and he asserts that they consume less feed. They assimilate their food, and it is converted into milk and butter and is not used in building up and sustaining a large carcass.

"We are going to make all other breeds take to the woods after this test," said Mr. Graves. "A few days ago I was testing some of our Jersey milk, and my hands were all sticky and greasy from the enormous amount of butter fat the milk contained. Mr. Von Heyne, who is in charge of the Holsteins, sent over a quantity of his milk for me to test. Of course, from a commercial standpoint, there was no comparison between the milk, but it was a pleasure to test his milk, for when I got through there was no grease on my hands. After this I will have a bucket of Holstein milk around handy to wash my hands in after testing our own rich Jersey milk."

The test begins May 10 and continues 120 days.

Unique California Map.

A unique exhibit at the World's Fair was prepared by the agricultural department of the University of California. It is a large map, so colored as to show the character of the various soils of the state. It gives a clear idea of the situation and the extent of the arable and unutilized sections. In the localities that cannot be cultivated are shown the Sierras, the lava beds and the desert. The map indicates the location of the cultivable portions of the mountains and Mohave plateau and shows the nature of the foothills and valleys of that wonderful state.
